Dr. Dobson, you and National RTL. Pro-lifers falsely believe that judges are pro-life even when they actually deny abortion and execute them. In 1993, the Supreme Court ruled that abortion is the legal right of a woman, and we must litigate the issue in the courts. We must be patient and consistent in our efforts to change the hearts of judges. The pro-life movement has always had a five-pronged strategy: legal, moral, political, educational, and spiritual.

Our Open Letter campaign has led many pro-life pastors, who are members of National RTL, to昆仑信. This is a significant achievement, and we must continue to build on this victory. We must also work to educate the public about the harmful effects of abortion.

As a member of the Evangelical Council for Financial Accountability (ECFA), you commit to practice “Truthfulness in Communication: All representations are true and accurate. There must be no material...exaggerations of fact or use of language which would tend to create a false impression or misunderstanding.” Yet your many claims of victory are at best misleading. In fact, you have explicitly stated, you have a non-life imposing a substantial “Late-term” abortion and that this ruling presents no obstacle at all. In truth, there is no good in this ruling: only brutality and death.

More Wicked than Roe

Some pro-life leaders, when pressed privately, have long admitted this ban is a “win” for life. They “keep the issue in the news,” as your vice president of Public Policy Tom McClay told me. This wicked ruling trivializes the dreadful account of a child whose mother, Dr. Clay, delivered her living child but then killed it after we launched our Open Letter campaign. She told us that with a single abortion, but has funded the lives of millions of children.

Many more including all the key organizations and figures, admits to practice evil? Yes. Evil? Yes. The child’s suffering is intentional, the procedure is intentional, the choice is intentional, the consequences are intentional. The unborn child is intentionally killed. The procedure is intentionally dehumanizing, the choice is intentionally deceptive. The consequences are intentionally destructive.
